Remembering the Father of Library

- Background:
 - Shiyali Ramamrita Ranganathan, popularly known as S.R. Ranganathan was a transformative figure in the field of library science. He was an Indian librarian, mathematician, and visionary whose groundbreaking contributions to library science earned him the title "father of library science" in India.
- Five Laws:
 - His development of the Five Laws of Library Science, the Colon Classification system, and numerous theoretical advancements transformed librarianship into a rigorous, user-centered discipline. Ranganathan's work not only reshaped library practices in India but also left an indelible mark on global information science, influencing classification systems, library education, and access to knowledge.
- Entry into Librarianship:
 - Ranganathan's transition to library science was serendipitous. In 1923, Ranganathan's life took a pivotal turn when he was offered the position of University Librarian at the University of Madras, even though he had no prior experience in librarianship. At the time, librarianship in India was an undervalued profession, often seen as clerical work with little intellectual prestige.

NSS Day

- Definition:

- National Service Scheme (NSS) Day is observed annually on September 24th to commemorate the launch of the program on this day in 1969, aimed at developing student personality through community service. It promotes the motto "Not Me, But You," focusing on social responsibility, national integration, and volunteerism.

- Aim:

- The motto or watchword of the National Service Scheme is : 'NOT ME BUT YOU'. This reflects the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for selfless service and appreciation of the other person's point of view and also to show consideration for fellow human beings. It underlines that the welfare of an individual is ultimately dependent on the welfare of society on the whole. Therefore, it should be the aim of the NSS to demonstrate this motto in its day-to-day programme.

- Volunteers:

- As a course curriculum, every student who got admission in UG degree programme has to choose between NSS, NCC and Yoga/PE as a subject in first two years of the study of their respective degree programme. Each student need satisfactory grade for getting up-gradation in the next level of their degree programme. The cumulative roll of students getting admission each year and passing out the degree programme every year after completion of the degree programme counts for the total strength of NSS volunteers in the unit.

Awareness Program on Blood Donation

- Slogan:
 - The slogan for World Blood Donor Day campaign is “Give blood, give plasma, share life, share often.” It focuses on patients requiring life-long transfusion support and underlines the role every single person can play, by giving the valuable gift of blood or plasma.
- Why Blood Donation:
 - Just 1 donation can save up to 3 lives. The average red blood cell transfusion is 3 pints (or 3 whole-blood donations). More than 1 million people every year are diagnosed with cancer for the first time. Many of them will need blood—sometimes daily—during chemotherapy.
- Founder of Blood Donor Day:
 - Karl Landsteiner was the first one to examine the science of blood donation with animals and he managed to successfully transfuse blood between two dogs with no appreciable ill effects. But WHO decided to celebrate the birthday of Karl Landsteiner as World Blood Donor day. Landsteiner was Austrian American immunologist, pathologist.
- To know the scarcity of blood
- To ensure availability of safe and quality blood
